"MAN"

The following discourse, is said to have originated in the fertile brain of a Chicago lawyer:

A man's life is full of crosses and temptations. He comes into this world without his consent, and goes out against his will, and the trip between the two is exceedingly rocky.

The rule of contraries is one of the features of the trip. When he is little the big girls kiss him, when he is grown the little girls kiss him. If he is poor he is a bad manager, if he is rich he is dishonest. If he needs credit he can't get it, if he is prosperous every one wants to do him a favor. If he is in politics it's for the pie, if he is out of politics you can't find a place for him, and he is no good for his country. If he doesn't give to charity he is a stingy cuss, if he does it's for show.

If he is actively religious he is a hypocrite, if he takes no interest in religion he is a hardened sinner.

If he gives affection he is a soft specimen, if he seems to care for no one he is cold blooded.

If he dies young there was a great future before him, if lives to an old age he has missed his calling.

The road is rocky, but man loves to travel it.

The Charming Woman

is not necessarily one, of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires: Neatness, clear eyes, clean, smooth skin, and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at T. E. Paull, Druggist, 50c.

GETTING ON IN THE WORLD.

I never saved a dollar which I was not prompted to save as a matter of common sense. If a man assumes the duty of working he can not shirk the responsibility of saving. He has not worked sanely if he has not saved a fair percentage of his earnings.

For he must spend a fair percentage of that which he earns. The "best citizen" cannot be measured by what he saves, regardless of his duty to spend. But he owes himself, his friend, and the community in which he lives a sane measure of saving.

Long hours at so much of the work of the world is not a virtue in the worker per se. It may suggest only his weakness. To do a man's work in the shortest day possible should be a young man's aim. Then let him learn to do more than one task that is set before him. This is education and growth. This is a move toward success.—John J. Mitchell, president Illinois Truist and Savings Bank, in Chicago Tribune.

WONDERFULLY MADE.

A clergyman happened to tell his son one Saturday afternoon what lesson he would read from the next morning in church. He got his father's Bible, found the lesson place and glued together the connecting pages. In consequence the clergyman read to his flock the following: "When Noah was 120 years old, he took to himself a wife who was (here he turned the page) 140 cubits long, 40 cubit wide, built of gopher wood, covered with pitch in and out." After reading the passage, the clergyman read it again to verify it. Then, pushing back his spectacles he looked gravely at his congregation and said: "My friends, this is the first time I ever read that in the Bible, but I accept it as evidence of the assertion that we are fearfully and wonderfully made."
